Student Labor Fund.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas has a fund known as the Student Labor Fund appropriated by the Legislature for aiding worthy young men in their efforts to get a college education.

A limited number of students who have no other means of paying their college expenses, are allowed to earn as much as $20 a month from this fund, provided they can do this without interfering with their regular college work. It is rarely advisable for a young man to attempt to earn more than $5 or $8 a month during his first year at college.

The price paid for ordinary student labor is 12 1-2 cents an hour and for skilled labor as much as 25 cents is paid. A large number of students are now earning money by doing various kinds of work on the campus, such as assisting in the laundry, firing boilers, doing stenographic work, etc. Most of this work is done in the afternoon, at night and in the early morning. Except in extraordinary cases, students are not employed under the student labor system between the hours of 8 a. m. and 12 m.

On entering the college a student should have a much as $100 to $125. This amount will pay the actual expenses of the first term.

Men who are otherwise able to pay their college expenses are not entitled to the benefits of the student labor fund.
